About Day Camp
at the London Children's Museum

Thank you for choosing the London Children’s Museum day camp for your child’s summer adventure! This document contains important information to help you and your child prepare for camp.

London Children’s Museum day camps are filled with play and learning. Through interactive, hands-on experiences, campers learn about the world around them and who they are in relation to it. They will engage in play-based learning, interact with real museum artifacts, explore our galleries and exhibits, and participate in outdoor activities.

Day camp contributes to a child’s healthy social, emotional, physical, and cognitive development. At camp, children are encouraged to ask questions, lead, guide, investigate, and wonder.

Communication with Camp Staff

London Children’s Museum camp counsellors are enthusiastic and energetic individuals, carefully selected to provide the best experience for your child at camp. All Children’s Museum camp staff complete training that includes First Aid and CPR, TRACKS, All Kids in Camp, inclusion, bullying prevention, and adaptive programming techniques.

We value communication between our staff and caregivers. You will receive an introductory email from your child’s counsellor by the Friday before their camp week. You will have the opportunity to meet and talk with our camp counsellors at drop-off and pick-up. Counsellors will not have access to their email during the day. If information needs to be communicated before pick-up, contact our front desk at 519.434.5726 ext 221.

If you have any specific questions or concerns about your child’s day camp experience, please contact Nicole Hibbs, Day Camp Coordinator, at nhibbs@londonchildrensmuseum.ca or 519.434.5726 ext. 221.

Camp Programming

The London Children’s Museum aims to create awesome experiences for campers. Each camp week has a theme which guides the exploration of science, art, artifacts, exhibits, and the outdoors. Campers will participate in water activities while at camp, including trips to the nearby splash pad on Wednesdays and water games on the London Children’s Museum property. We will follow our 1-8 ratio while off-site. Your introductory email sent the week before camp will highlight special activities.

The London Children's Museum strives to create an atmosphere that allows every child to have fun and be themselves. It is our goal that every camper feels supported, respected, cared for, and safe. All of our camp counsellors are trained in HIGH FIVE and have extensive training in supporting campers emotional needs.

Every child has the right to a positive camp experience. If a situation arises where a camper is threatening the safety of another person or themselves physically or emotionally, the London Children's Museum will make every effort to develop a plan in collaboration with the camper and their caregivers.

The London Children's Museum prioritizes the safety and respect of all our campers and staff members. For this reason, campers are required to:
- Stay with their counsellor and group at all times
- Respect physical boundaries and keep hands-off
- Respect campers and staff by using appropriate and kind language

The London Children's Museum day camp program strives to serve all children, however, in rare instances, this program is not suitable for everyone. The London Children's Museum reserves the right to remove a camper from camp if the camper is not able to meet these requirements, or if the program cannot meet the camper's needs.

Additional Support

The London Children's Museum does our best to accommodate all children in camp, however, we cannot offer 1-1 support. Please contact our front desk at frontdesk@londonchildrensmuseum.ca or 519-434-5726 to complete an Additional Support Form if your child needs support beyond the reach of our standard 1-8 ratio. Typically, if a child receives additional support at school or daycare, we recommend you complete this form.
